

Historic Pub Trail

UPDATED

Friday 29 September 2017

From the oldest operating brewery in Australia to the oldest continuously licensed pub, Hobart boasts beer history in the same way that it oozes Hash history. Join us as we take you on a Hash tour of some of our most historic alehouses.

Starting at 2.30pm, you'll follow trail on a leisurely stroll through the historic precincts of Battery Point, Salamanca and Wapping, lubricating yourself at regular inn stops.

Among the watering holes, you'll visit a pub that was originally an illegal grog shop built by convicts only 20 years after Hobart was settled, old yachting pubs where the Sydney-Hobart crews continue the rollicking of the old salts before them; Hobart's original "Hash pub" whose history dates back to 1844; and a bawdy house that defied constant attempts to close it down.

You'll finish up in the city about 5.30pm for a BBQ at Australia's oldest pub. After the circle you can party on as long as you wish – from there on the night is yours.

For an enhanced experience participants are urged to download a QR code reader app to their phones.

An event not to be missed, so register now at <http://hobart.ozhash50th.org.au>.

Cost: $10. Pay on the day.

Pay your own way at the pubs – BBQ provided at the end
